

“A Message For the Child’s Non-resident Parent”

Written by Hideki Saito, lawyer

Even though you cannot see your children, you can be a “cool” father if you work much harder to send more child support to pull your children out of poverty.

If you will send money, your children will rely on you when they grow up.

Try to make a relationship with your children which last for a lifetime!!